PARKING, TRAFFIC, SEWAGE PLANT LAND TRANSFER OCCUPY COUNCIL

Many amendments to the parking and traffic control ordinances of Warren were passed by council Monday night in an effort to provide more parking and to ease the congestion on busy streets. Council also took another step toward the sewage plant construction by conveying the sewage plant site and pumping station land to the Warren Borough Sanitary Authority. Plans for the plant also were transferred.

Seven meters that allow only twelve minutes of parking will be installed along the north side of Pennsylvania ave., between Liberty and Second. In this area there also will be a seventy-foot bus stop.

Across the street from this area will be a forty-foot bus stop starting twenty-five feet from the Liberty and Pennsylvania ave. intersection. Then will come a row of diagonal parking places which will end at a forty foot unloading zone which begins at the Keystone garage driveway. West of that to Hickory street the diagonal parking places now being used will be changed to parallel parking.

The speed limit on Madison ave., which now is 25 miles per hour as far as Grant will be changed to include Marion st. The load limit on Third ave. will be five tons from Pennsylvania ave. to Market to discourage heavy trucking.

Water st. will be one-way eastward as far as East st. from Market. The remaining block to Pennsylvania ave. will be two-way to allow traffic to get off the avenue without coming west to the East st. light and causing tie-ups.

Crescent park will be westbound one-way from the bridge to Main ave. Water, East, Liberty, and Hickory will be stop streets coming onto Fifth ave.

Market st. parking will be limited to two hours from Pennsylvania ave. to Fourth ave.

Parking will be eliminated for one hundred feet on the north side of Water around the bend between East and Market, and it will be prohibited on the north side of Crescent park from the Hickory st. bridge to Oneida.

All parking of two hours or less will be in effect from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on every day except Sundays, holidays, and Friday. On Friday the hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. An exception is the post office area. This limitation does not affect the 3 to 6 a.m. prohibition.

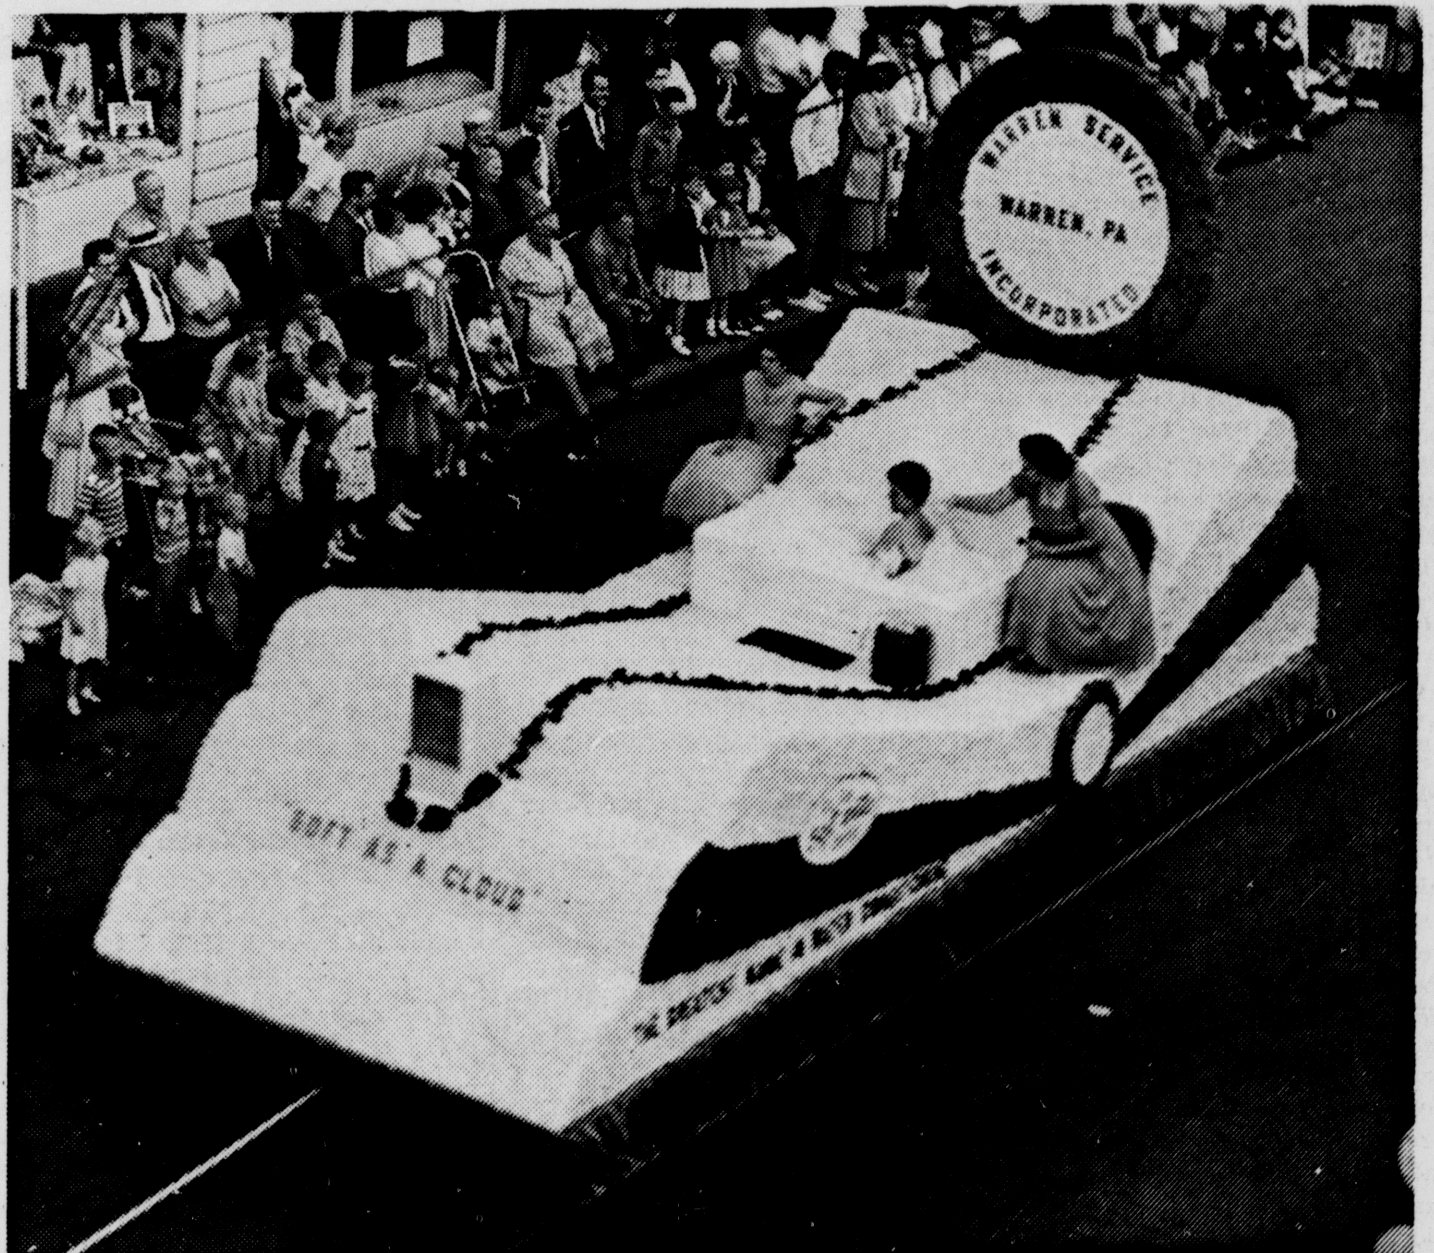

Parking meters will be installed along the north side of Third ave. from Market to the post office, and from Liberty to Hickory.

Parallel parking spaces will range from 18 to 22 feet, and diagonal parking spaces will be ten feet.

Councilman Merenick suggested that the loading zone for trucks on Pennsylvania ave. was good if all retailers with similar problems were given equal consideration. These stores have no rear entrance. He asked why those with rear entrances did not use them instead of blocking traffic with front entrance unloading.

Councilman Miller asked for action on the peddling license investigation, and Councilman Africa proposed one-way traffic on Second and Third avenues.

Burgess Rice said he thought a traffic survey by an expert should be made to replace the trial and error system now in effect. This was supported by a letter from the Warren borough parking authority.

Council approved a loan of $75,000 to finance the general fund until 1957 taxes arrive in the fall.

It resolved to apply for its share of gasoline tax money from the county commissioners.

The resignation of Charles Dorotics as a patrolman was accepted and action on his replacement was deferred until the civil service commission acts.

Councilman Merenick reported that the 1957 paving program now had part of McPherson st. to complete, all of Plum, and the airport resurfacing. Plans are being studied to control cloudburst water flow on hill-side streets.

REAL BUBBLES and real models helped the Culligan Soft Water float take first place honors in the industrial and commercial division.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

U. S. AND RUSSIA MAY BECOME SECOND RATE

The Americans and the Russians may not need a shooting war to reduce them to secondary powers, or to eliminate them as powers to any degree. The continued atomic tests may do it without a war. It may be the first time in history that two powers have licked each other by preparing for war.

The Republicans and the Republican press put a dampener on the danger of atomic tests during the last campaign. For political purposes they risked the lives of our citizens and the future of our nation to win an election. (Conservative and powerful elements of the Democrats who did not warm up to Stevenson did nothing to change the Washington situation.)

The Atomic Energy Commission supported the President in his campaigned oratory to play down the danger, and it will take costly months and maybe years to convince faithful followers of the popular leader that politics got in the way of truth. Unfortunately the Atomic Energy commission is a little too political for truly efficient operation. And it lacks one kind of scientist that might help us learn facts that will reveal the danger to our society.

There is not a geneticist on the commission. These are the scientists who make a specialty of the area of knowledge affecting future life. They recently told our congressional atomic energy committee that future generations already are seriously endangered by the atom bomb tests. About a month later we fired the biggest bomb ever exploded on this continent, and many smaller ones have been tested throughout the summer.

The geneticists are the only scientists qualified to discuss this phase of our problem, yet let politicians and military leaders establish our policy and tell us half the truth (if that much).

The danger is not all in the future. The proportion of bone cancer already is expected to increase due to the additional amount of strontium in the atmosphere as the result of the tests. We are spending billions to make and test new weapons that will kill while we spend a comparatively few millions for knowledge to save life. And the irony is that the billions we spend to kill are counteracting some of the good resulting from the millions spent to save.

The press, tv, and radio, which lean so predominantly GOP, have been reluctant to take this on and to give it a full blast of truth. The effect on those now living is obvious to a minor degree and probably to an even greater degree in ways unknown. In addition we may be so weakening our future generations that we will become a nation of weaklings and a push-over for smaller powers in other and safer hemispheres.

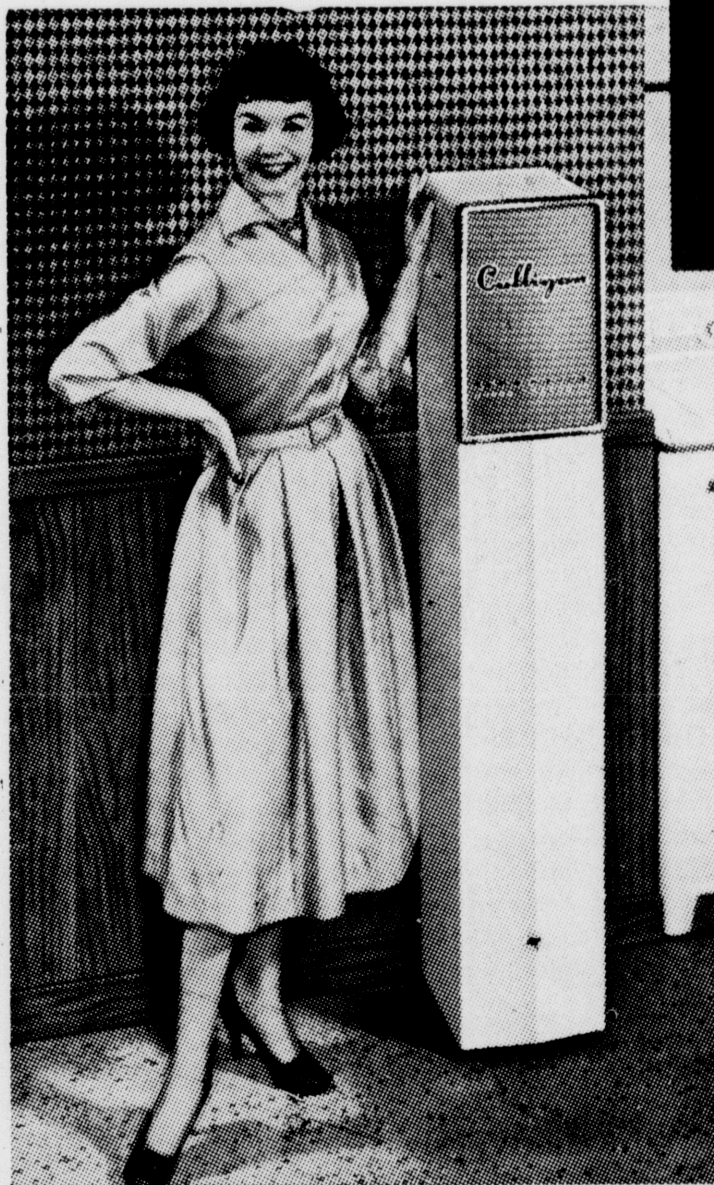

LESS HUSH HUSH

Meanwhile, the press finally is beginning to give a bit of publicity to the dangers of cigaret, pipe, and cigar smoking. This was forced into the open when the results of a research project by the American Cancer Society were given to the American Medical Association.

But the press, radio, and tv have not taken up the battle against this danger. They talk about highway dangers (without attacking the manufacturers for building power and speed into cars and failing to provide more safety features), they discuss juvenile delinquency (though shrugging it off as a parents' problem), and they take on all aspects of various dangers as long as they do not have to punch it out with the makers of products that provide advertising dollars.

We would think that the increase of a killing disease by one-third among those who smoke even a half pack of cigarets a day (ten cigarets) would be sufficient evidence to inspire the same opposition as we find in articles dealing with the use of drugs.

And when the relationship between cigarets and heart trouble also is proved, why is it that the press, radio, and tv do not finally develop sufficient gumption to battle this menace. There now is a suspicion, and no doubt far more than a suspicion, that coronary trouble is seventy per cent greater among smokers than non-smokers, and that even a half pack a day will increase the danger about 29 per cent!

And the effort to retreat behind a pipe or cigar has been encouraged in the past by press stories that suggested these were safe vices. But the American Cancer report pulls the rug out from under that one. Lung cancer incidence is 12 per cent higher among pipe smokers and 32 per cent higher among cigar smokers.

Meanwhile, the research teams of the tobacco industry that were supposed to contradict all this are not being heard from for obvious reasons and the industry is directing its efforts toward means of removing the danger. Filters have not done the job, despite wide publicity, and some believe the immediate job for the industry is to find filters that will work.

But when you don't know what the filter is supposed to remove, the difficulty is increased many fold. When someone finds the answer to that one they may have taken a major step toward the cure of the disease. If the element in tobacco is a major cause and not merely a serious irritant, we may have narrowed our field of research to a pin-point.

THE FACTS, PLEASE

And so we come back to the premise that if the press will fully utilize its freedom with courageous exposures of the facts the dangers of war and peace will be reduced rather than enhanced for political and monetary reasons.

MORE PARKING

At least two new parking lots are shaping up in Warren. One already has been made ready on the "island", and can be found at the foot of Liberty st. Another soon will be announced.

Meanwhile, council is talking about making a survey to determine the long term plans for traffic control and parking. It would be done by an authority on the subject. We thought the borough paid to have this done a few years ago, but we never could see where we took the advice offered.

GAS VS. COAL

A fuel study made for the Warren jointure put a clinker in the effort by some to have coal used to heat the new Warren high school. The comparative cost came out at $10,152 for coal and $6,200 for gas.

This was assuming a requirement of 10,000 MCF per year at 57 cents.
The coal was figured at 465 tons at $5.69. Major items in addition to fuel cost that boosted coal was $2,250 for additional capital investment, $1,512 for labor, $1,125 for interest on average principal, and a few other tidy items, such as $600 for a breeching-stack and the interest thereon, $350 for boiler-stoker maintenance, and more.
These are annual costs based on the average life of each item involved.

It also listed the many schools in the area, numbering about thirty, which are using gas, all of which were built after 1952.

Postmaster B. S. Knabenshue in a letter to the board expressed skepticism concerning the possibility that a stoker would last even twenty years and claimed that one repair on a stoker, and he never heard of one that didn't need frequent repairs, would buy a lot of gas.

He also brought out that the extra footage used to house coal and its equipment either could be eliminated or used for better purposes.

He also mentioned the improved health of post office employees since gas was installed and the elimination of dirt in the neighborhood. He said that no coal-burning installations remain in Warren except in public or semi-public buildings. If profit-minded businessmen find it advantageous to use gas, it seems it must be economically sound.

TEACHER QUALIFICATIONS

Master's degrees among Warren teachers have increased ten percent since 1953. At that time twenty-six teachers out of 125 had masters. Today there are forty-five holders of the master's degree out of 148 teachers. The number of teachers without at least a bachelor's degree has dropped from 25

MUST BUILD SEWAGE PLANTS

Sheffield, Tidioute, Tionesta, and Oil City are the communities in this area that are among the fifty-three in this area which have been ordered to have sewage plants operating by July 1, 1959. In the case of the smaller communities this may sound a little costly, but there are ways of reducing the bill.

All are guilty of waiting too long, even as Warren, which already has started action on its plant. Warren beat the February 1 deadline for obtaining federal funds to be used in 1957 or 1958. In the case of smaller communities these funds will pay a third of the cost. In larger towns the limit is $250,000.

In addition, the state will pay a town two per cent of the total cost each year to be applied against the annual debt payment. Maintenance cost in the case of smaller towns is not very great. Youngsville maintains its plant at a cost of sixty per cent of the water bill for each home-owner or renter.
And this produces enough money to provide for expansion or replacements in the future.

STRONG MUTTON DRIVE

A half million dollars will be spent this coming year to see that you eat more lamb. It will be used to buy newspaper space, with color in the larger papers.

LIBRARY SESSION

Many complain but few do anything about such public services as the library. Next week we will have an example of this listlessness when the annual meeting of the Warren Library Association is held Monday evening, at 8:15. Attending will be no more than a half dozen members, and we doubt if even a full attendance of the board results.

RUSSIAN POLITICS

Many are expressing their pleasure that several of the remaining Stalinist leaders have been booted out of office in Russia. But we suspect that this offers one aspect that forms a large question mark.

Obviously the present leadership which originally made the anti-Stalin moves now is convinced that it is sufficiently strong to go all the way. This can mean that the people are with them or it can mean that they have moved into all key points and are in complete control of the one-party system, and the peasants can literally go hang if they don't like it.

We would like to believe that the people favor the move and that it is their influence which is making it possible. This would be a good sign. But in a dictatorial, one-party nation, with a wall of secrecy about all public moves, we must face the fact that we still have no definite proof that freedom is growing in Soviet land.

RACIAL PREJUDICE REVEALED IN WARREN

The public was greatly perturbed early this week when a Warren minister explained by way of the radio that a colored minister brought in for the Jaycee vesper service Sunday was refused lodging at a nearby motel. This paper was asked by some to editorialize and to blister the motel operator.

We do not condone the motel owner's actions, but we believe the excited people with whom we have talked and the many throughout the area who are sending dark looks in the direction of the sleeping house are missing a point.

This man probably adopted this policy not because of his own feelings or beliefs. His policy no doubt was established by the attitude of his potential customers.

The difference between most of the people in the South and the North is that the Southerners make no bones about their stand on the racial situation. They face it and do what we think is wrong about it. But they do draw the line and admit it.

Up here we pretend a great dislike for the Southern method and we call them narrow. Yet a major share of your northern people are calling negroes by some rather uncomplimentary names and do not care to eat, sleep, or associate with them.

We find much hypocrisy in the North, and we are finding it right here in Warren county. Many of those who are looking down their noses at the motel operator would not care to sleep in such a place if it housed negroes. And many of us who pretend that we have no racial prejudices and attempt to prove it by making a show of friendliness toward other races by associating with them in public places, would not have our son or daughter marry or even date with young people of some nationalities.

The motel manager may be wrong, but probably his thinking is guided by that of too much of the public with which he must do business.

He who is without prejudice; he who knowing the local situation offered his home to this visitor in advance; he who has risked his job or his business by taking a racial stand; let these point the first finger.

Which does not mean that we can leave it there. We can not accept the reality of this situation and go our gloomy way with a shrug. Such a community experience should serve to awaken us to our limitations and to make it clear that most of us must learn to practice tolerance if conditions are to be improved and if we are to live harmoniously with others.

 DANGEROUS SEWERS

The obvious danger to those who insist on playing about the river where borough sewers empty into the waters has been pointed up by a release from the Warren Board of Health which has warned parents that it is dangerous for their children and for the borough if they are allowed to swim near the sewer exits. This has been a dangerous condition for years but little official notice has been given it.

In fact we have drawn a few smiles down through the years as we have gone about our business of commenting on the danger to the area's health resulting from sewers that pour into the river and in low periods even have been seen pouring out onto the exposed river bottom or banks. This official attention may jar a few parents as written words of a layman never did.

We believe we should add that if there is danger to those who swim near the sewer exits there also must be danger to those who fish there or who catch the fish who have fed there. These are not pretty thoughts, but neither are the wastes that we spill into the Allegheny.

 MORE GAS

The press is being asked to tell you that the gas utility and pipeline industry will spend a record $2.13 billion for new facilities in this country in 1957, an increase of 37 per cent over the previous all-time high. And in the next four years will spend $8.7 billion.

Nearly half this will go for transmission purposes, adding probably over 40,000 miles to the 525,000 now being used to serve thirty million customers. The added lines last year reached a million new customers as the natural gas boys probe into the areas now served by the bottled variety.

These kind of releases usually precede rate increases. So be warned!

TE LA DI O

CONCERT MUSIC SERIES

"From Haydn to Hi-Fi", a history of chamber music through performance, began Sunday, July 7 at 3 p.m. on WBUF, channel 17, on the program called SPECTRUM. The series features the Stanley Quartet, a string quartet known throughout the country. The first presentation dealt with an analysis of the music of Haydn and Mozart, followed by an explanation of the structure of the string quartet, from the standpoint of instrumentation and arrangement. Professor James O'Neill, of the University of Michigan Music Department, provides the commentary for the series.

More good music from the Buffalo direction came this week when radio stations WBEN and WBEN-FM began an eight-week series of Buffalo Philharmonic Summer Pops Concerts. The broadcasts can be heard on Tuesday evenings at 8:30 to 9:25 over WBEN and 8:30 to 10:30 to conclusion over WBEN-FM.

Celebrated violinist Florian Zambach was featured on the opening program this week. Following is the remainder of the schedule: July 16, "Broadway Musicals Night"; July 23, Duke Ellington and His Orchestra; July 30, Gershwin Night; August 6, Calypso Night; August 13, Ballet Night; August 20, Jazz Night; August 27, Rodgers & Hammerstein Night.

WARREN GIRL ON TV

Teresa Fino, former Warren girl now living in New York City where she is a librarian at Central Children's Room, was on television last Sunday morning. Miss Fino was the first to appear in a story-tellers' series on NBC-TV's "Sunday's Schedule", a family show with film variety and "live" entertainment. The first hour of the show is devoted to children and this is where Miss Fino came in.

TWO ON THE AISLE

You like movies? Then you are a summer television fan for nearly every hour on the hour, by switching from channel to channel, you can find a movie. This is an easy and economical way for networks and stations to fill the spots vacated by the more costly winter programming. Of course, some of the stars you see are long gone, the costumes are of another vintage, the plots seem pretty corny, and . . . most of the movies you've seen before sometime within the last ten or fifteen years. One they have missed . . . we haven't discovered a re-run of Al Jolson in "Sonny Boy".

(Ed. Note. That wouldn't be a re-run. That would be rejuvenation.)

THE ALLEN-SULLIVAN WAR

At the risk of having my name misspelled again on the editorial pages of "The Daily News" (one of the local papers here in New York), I'd like to venture the timorous suggestion that Steve Allen, is, week after week, turning out a fine show with very fresh and original humor. The other night, for instance, there was a skit with Peter Lawford about the private conversation of a couple of life-guards and a satire on the Mike Wallace Show which was very, very funny.

There's a kind of humor on the Allen show -- for instance, Allen doing commercials built around famous art masterpieces like the Mona Lisa ("Girls, are you afraid to show your teeth when you smile?") -- which you just don't find anywhere else, especially since the demise of Sid Caesar. I recall with pleasure a duologue with Wally Cox, the two of them playing a couple of guys watching an excavation. Well, it was a funny, fresh imaginative idea. It had bite and perception about it.

Meanwhile, the Allen-Ed Sullivan feud rolls on and this, I'm afraid hasn't much bite or freshness about it or, on Mr. Sullivan's side, much taste. The comments by Sullivan about Mr. Allen have been universally ill-tempered, unsportsmanlike, and more than a little ridiculous. It does seem odd that a newspaperman should have so little sense of public relations.

The other night after doing his own show Steve Allen appeared on "The Mike Wallace Show" where he was promptly queried about the Sullivan feud. His answers were the very model of propriety, perhaps a little too much so. I found myself wishing he'd take a poke at Mr. Sullivan, who has showed no hesitation at taking pokes at him.

"Ed is a newspaperman predominantly," said Allen at one point. Well, now, that is a matter of opinion. I notice that most entertainers consider Sullivan fundamentally a newspaperman while most newspapermen consider him fundamentally in show business. Each side is accusing the other of being guilty of Ed Sullivan. I suggest we draw straws. We'll take the blame one week but, by God, you actors have got to assume responsibility for Sullivan the following week.

Having watched him give a very assured and smooth performance on his own show an hour earlier, it was surprising how nervous and ill at ease Allen was on the Wallace show. He was very straightforward and honest and open in his replies but he did look as if he wished he were somewhere else. This is the age of the candid unrehearsed interview and it's odd how badly the actors do at it.

Dictators -- Khrushchev, for example -- seem much more at ease in front of the cameras than actors who, after all, earn their living doing just that. I think the most nervous man I ever saw in front of the TV cameras was Fred Astaire on "Person to Person". Astaire, who must have been in show business for pretty close to forty years, could hardly get through a sentence. The Mrs. Glotzes of Brooklyn who get on the audience participation shows are infinitely more at home in front of the cameras than show business veterans.

In radio, there were innumerable examples of mike fright. There's hardly a performer on radio who hasn't a dozen stories of mike fright that had happened on his own show. But you almost never hear a comparable story about camera fright. In fact, the only people who seem to get frightened of the TV cameras are movie stars some of whom have almost had hysterics.

Mr. Allen also found time to say a few kind words about his new sponsor, Johnson's Wax, and I must say I go along with him there. Johnson's Wax is one of those rare sponsors which seems to know just what sort of a show it wants to be associated with. Years ago it tied up with "Fibber McGee and Molly" on radio and clung to them for years. On television, it has been associated with "Robert Montgomery Presents," now off the air, and now with Allen. All the things it has been connected with have had quality which reflects on the product. And the commercials are bright and fresh and, of all things, instructive. You can't ask for more than that. (c) 1957 New York Herald Tribune Inc.

JT. COMMITTEE DISCUSSES NEW HIGH SCHOOL; STATE TO GIVE BONUS

It will be two or three months before members of the joint committee of the Warren Area Joint School board will be faced with making the decisions as to where on the so-called Swick site the new high school is to be located, what type of building is to be constructed, and so on.

This was brought out when school officials met for their July session Monday night. At this time a letter from E. W. Werle, of the Erie architectural firm Meyers, Krider, Werle and Ellenberger, disclosed that the enlarged drawing of the topographic survey has been returned to Henry Fuellhart for such necessary additional information as lot and property lines.

After Mr. Fuellhart supplies this information the architects will likely return the survey to him again with a list of further details needed before an exact site can be selected.

The committee was informed by the Department of Public Instruction that it has approval to receive a bonus for operating as a jointure. This will mean about $17,000 to the borough of Warren. The same letter stated the local jointure is not complete and there was no home school visitor in the program. This matter was referred to the schools committee for further consideration.

The Potter Fire Escape Co. will ship the fire escape for the third floor of the present high school building the first of August. Local contractor Hillard was scheduled to start work on the structure Wednesday of this week. The floor is being renovated to accommodate the influx of students from junior high this fall.

Under the personnel heading, the committee accepted the resignations of A. F. Dunham and Thomas Barratt, employed Mrs. June Anderson to instruct English in the high school, and relieved, by request, Tom Kristy from the duties of assistant football coach. Mr. Dunham is retiring, while Mr. Barratt has accepted the position of supervising principal in Sheffield.

President Melvin G. Keller reappointed W. Scott Calderwood, Warren, and Harris Johnson, Glade twp., as Library board representatives.

Payment of bills approved were in amounts of $152, substitute teachers; $48, recreation services; $789.17, special services; $570.75, janitors' overtime; $20,730.03, orders written during the month; $9,049.24, bills recommended for payment by the finance committee.

Over $17,500 was allocated for text books for next year, a higher figure than usual, and about $175 for equipment.

In a summary of the lunch and milk program for the period September 1, 1956-June 30, 1957, an income of $63,529.38 was shown against $61,401.36 in purchases. The June state subsidy of $369 is not included.

The June attendance figure was 98 percent, average for that period.

An air force class in high school will be held for the local wing with Col. Ayers as instructor.

The August session will be held on call of the president, with authority given the finance committee to pay bills.

In Brief

A SPECIAL PICTURE. The Northern Area Joint School board Wednesday night graciously accepted a picture of President Dwight D. Eisenhower to be displayed in the high school recently named after the president.

The picture was sent personally by the top official and turned over to the board by Earl L. Shea, of the Pennsylvania Public School Building Authority, in an informal ceremony.

CLOSE CALL. The Sheriff's department continued its search Wednesday for the individual who fired the 22 calibre bullet that struck a Clarendon woman in the arm about 12:20 p. m. Tuesday as she walked along the main street of her home town.

Suffering with a shattered bone of the right arm in Warren General Hospital is Mrs. Ethel Cloutman, 29.

The victim was walking west through the center of town on the south side of the street holding the hand of her six year old daughter. Suddenly she felt a sting and looked down to see her upper right arm (inches above her daughter's head) bleeding.

Mrs. Cloutman then walked about 150 feet to the residence of Dr. Robert Neuthling, who discovered the wound was made from a bullet and rushed the woman to the hospital.

It was determined the shot had been fired from the opposite side of the street.

OFF THE RACE TRACK. A pair of New York State men, who treated the highway from Jamestown to Chandlers Valley as a bump 'em jalopy raceway, found that women can be rough too when they ended up at the Johnson property Tuesday.

Reports are that Theodore Dunn, Ashville, N. Y., and Robert Howard, Jamestown, had a disagreement over money in Jamestown before starting their highway escapade that drove car drivers and pedestrians to the field before authorities stepped in.

The two were taken before a justice. Dunn was given 10 days in jail and Howard paid a $25 fine and costs.

Three of the Chandlers Valley area women who witnessed the bad deeds accompanied officials to the justice's office to insist justice was done.

NEW LOOK. The corner of Pennsylvania ave. and Hickory st., formerly occupied by the Carver Hotel, is about to take on a new look. According to Emblem Oil Co. officials, they are currently studying plans to erect an ultra modern service station on the site. The facilities would be designed to afford maximum convenience for downtown shoppers and a considerable portion of the property would be reserved as a parking area.

NEW PRESIDENT of the Warren Industrial Development Corp. is Neil Culbertson. He succeeds Ed C. Walker, who has held the position since the organization was formed in 1950.

Other officers and directors chosen when the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce board met Tuesday evening were Harry Logan, vice president; Charles Tranter, secretary-treasurer; Lloyd Cleveland, A. L. Rasmussen, Ray Steber, Don C. Smith, William E. Yeager and William R. Walker.

WIDCO recently completed purchase of a 12 acre site in Pleasant twp., near the borough line, which will be reserved for industrial development. Funds left in the organization's treasury from previous projects together with funds provided by the C. of C. were used to acquire the property from the Newbold estate.

At the Tuesday session Chamber directors planned an August meeting with Assemblyman Allen Gibson for the purpose of discussing future highway plans for Warren County and also learned that repairs to the Warren Airport runway are scheduled to start next week.

DUE TO THE IMMINENT expansion of the work of the Children's Aid Society of Warren County, the directors of the organization have elected to postpone the annual membership drive until this fall.

PERSONALITIES. M. E. Jewell, assistant cashier and assistant trust officer of the Warren Bank & Trust Co., has been appointed to the costs and charges committee of the Trust Division of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association for 1957-58.

Elmer Morgan, Harold Banghart, and Carl Rogers are attending a national council meeting of Boy Scouts in Philadelphia. Tomorrow afternoon (Friday) they will visit the Warren County Boy Scouts at the Jamboree.

FAULTY BRAKES were blamed for a two-car mishap that took place near the Marion st. and Pennsylvania ave. intersection at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday. George Yeagle, R. D. 1 Clarendon, was traveling west on the avenue when a car stopped for the traffic signal in front of him. The driver, unable to come to a halt when his brakes failed, cut onto Marion and struck a parked auto owned by Marjorie and Howard Flick, also of R. D. 1, Clarendon.

About $400 damage was caused.

CHARGES were placed against Fred Wright, 107 S. South st., Warren, after he made a weary traveler out of John H. Schake, Barbenton, Ohio, at 2:15 a. m. Saturday.

The out-of-state man was parked in a Glade gas station when Wright came along and smashed into the left front of his car. The operator then attempted to back away and struck the left rear of the parked vehicle.

Damage was estimated at $175.

A TRIO OF one-car accidents have been investigated by state police since last Thursday, on which day I. B. Patterson, Baden, Pa., ran off the Warren-Tidioute rd. and caused $1,000. The incident occurred at 2:20 p. m. and resulted in minor injuries to the driver and his wife.

On Saturday Millard Miller, Sheffield, figured in a $200 mishap when his car left the highway and plowed into a row of guard rails a mile west of Warren.

At 10:30 a. m. Tuesday about three miles north of Youngsville on Route 27, Herbert A. Cohen, Erie, went into a skid and rolled over. Cohen and his wife were shaken up in the $400 crash, but did not require treatment.

TWO LADY DRIVERS escaped injury at 1:20 a. m. Sunday 13 miles west of Warren on Route 62, where Ellen Williams, Endeavor, stopped along the highway and was struck in the rear by Lois Heusinger, Brookville, who was moving in the same direction. Police claimed $500 damage.

NEARLY 5000 YOUNGSTERS visited Warren's playground areas during the three days they were RETIRES. Ralph W. Whitehill, of 9 Lansing st., North Warren, announced his retirement June 29 after 57 years in the food business. At that time he was a buyer for Quality Cash Stores, Inc., with offices in Jamestown, N.Y.

His first experience in the food business came at the age of 14, when his family moved from Marienville to the Tionesta Creek Valley in 1900. At this time he worked in a grocery store owned by T. D. Collins, the Forest County lumberman.

In 1904, after graduating from Duff's Business College in Pittsburgh, he returned and bought an interest in the store. Mr. Whitehill then went to Kellettville in 1910 to manage the Salmon Creek Mercantile Co. store, which at the time was the largest general store in Western Pennsylvania.

The local man moved to Warren in 1918 and became vice president and manager of Glendora Products Co. and secretary of Smith and Horton Co. It was in 1931 he was made a representative of Quality Cash Stores, Inc., in Western Pennsylvania, serving as buyer the past three years.

open last week. The limited schedule was due to the Fourth of July.

PIPELINE REVERBERATIONS

The Tennessee Gas Transportation Company has filed for an increase of rates as of July 14, which will be felt by area gas consumers about September 11, when the Pennsylvania Gas Company hopes to up its rates to compensate for the jump. The increase will be about one and 68 one-hundredths cents per thousand cu. feet, which the Company says will mean a monthly fattening of the bill by about 28 cents for those who heat with gas and 8 cents for those who do not.

One hope remains. If the federal officials decide the Tennessee increase is not needed or is too much, the gas company will refund your money. And so we see first-hand what was meant when a few fought against the effort to remove federal controls from pipeline rates. This is small stuff alongside what would happen if no controls existed.

IMPROVED. Seventeen-year-old Charles O'Connor, who received a serious concussion in a two-car collision just north of Warren June 28 when his car went into a skid, has improved sufficiently enough to be removed to his home.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. O'Connor, of Warren.

CD TESTS. Now that the familiarization drills to point out to the public the difference between the "alert" and "take cover" signals have been completed, county Civil Defense workers will now move into more extensive drilling.

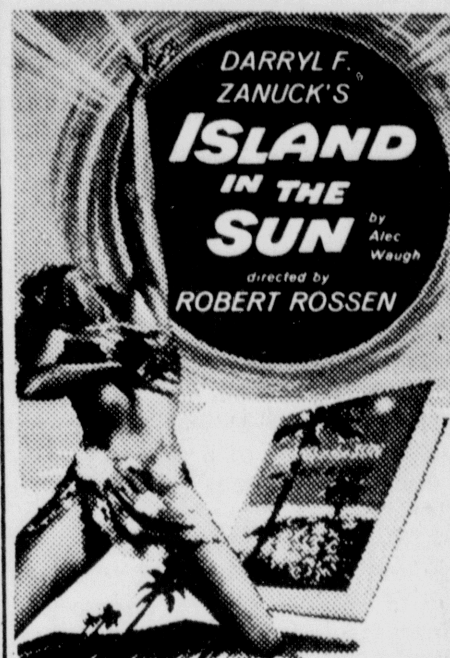

The week-long program will end Friday with a statewide public participation drill.

The purpose of the Friday drill, which will be held during daylight hours, is to give the public the chance to actually practice self-protection measures. Mainly to listen for and react to public action signals that were sounded earlier this week.

UNPROFITABLE BUT ENTERTAINING

At the early in the week date of this writing the Jaycee annual Fourth of July event seemed to be in the red, though by only a very few hundred, a share of which might be eaten up by late ticket reports. However, it is obvious that the events of last week did not make money for future projects.

If the Jaycees were endeavoring only to entertain, they provided good fun for thousands, as was evident Saturday evening when a major traffic jam developed following the parade. There also were good crowds at the boat races, the firemen's competition, and the coronation.

The rodeo didn't do so well, but the lip-service which as early as Thursday was spreading the story that the show wasn't very good did the attendance much harm. Those events which were free did very well. Those which cost money were lucky to break even.

Unfortunately the annual appeal for funds was burned up by the events and it will be difficult to visit the well again this year for future projects. Usually the Fourth provides both entertainment and funds to carry on.

However, the people of Warren were entertained and any worthwhile effort in future months that is backed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce should be supported on its own merits.

PAINTINGS EXHIBITED

Scenes familiar to residents of this area will be on exhibition in the new Chautauque Art Association gallery, until July 27. They are the paintings of Eunice McCloskey, of Elk county, whose works have been shown and have won honors in the Carnegie Museum, the National Museum in Washington, the Nelson Art gallery, and many other major art centers.

Her scenes include such titles as "Family Reunion at Twin Lakes," "Haying at the Huber Farm," "The Lower End of Main Street", and "The Clarion River Bridge". The Lower End of Main Street won first prize at the Edwin Forrest gallery in Philadelphia and was chosen to represent Pennsylvania at the national museum.

Mrs. McCloskey also is a writer, publishing a novel in 1952, the Golden Hill. She has written many stories and poems for leading magazines.

BRIDGE MADE EASY

If you never have played the game but would like to be the life of the next bridge party there is a book out that will teach you in twenty-two minutes. Or so says the Association of American Playing Card Manufacturers, who naturally would like to make it so easy that everyone will buy a new deck of pasteboards.

Title of the book is "How to Start Playing Bridge in 2 Minutes". It is done with the help of cartoons and colorful diagrams, is written with simplicity in mind, and uses such comparisons as business dealings to explain bidding and play.

You can have one for a dime by writing to Playing Cards, Department M, 420 Lexington ave., New York 17, N. Y. And if this upsets your family life, blame the public relations boys for the playing cards makers. They convinced us you might want to know how it is done in 2 easy minutes.

ALL-STAR GAMES

A pair of teams from each of the five divisions in the Warren Hot Stove League will again be featured in the annual Kiwanis Club sponsored All-Star games on Saturday, August 10.

The competition will be staged at War Memorial Field under the following schedule: 2:00 -- Bantams, 4:00 -- Midgets, 6:00 -- Cadets, all on the small diamond; 3:00 -- Intermediates, 5:30 -- Juniors, on large diamond.

Two players from each team in the entire league will be selected by the manager to play on the All-Star teams. The only exceptions are that the county Intermediate teams will pick three players and all Junior loop teams will send six stars.

Tickets will be sold at various centers throughout the county and by Hot Stovers. Prizes will go to the top five boy sellers. A Hot Stove membership card will admit HS players.

Proceeds from this project will be used to further the Hot Stove activities and for the Kiwanis Welfare Fund.

WIN UNLUCKY 13TH

The Ludlow Wildcats threw all superstition aside on their home diamond Sunday afternoon and marked up their 13th victory of the season over Titusville 6 to 1. Only two defeats have been suffered by the Cats.

Keith Holden and Fred Gray, who stepped in in the eighth, scattered six hits over the stretch. The Ludlow aggregation blasted Titusville's Nichols 11 times.

This Sunday at 3 o'clock Ludlow will entertain Franklin.

ELKS PLAY ROLLERS

The Warren Elks will play Jamestown Marlin-Rockwell at the State Hospital diamond this Saturday afternoon.

TEXAS LUNCH WINS

Leading 10-1 at the end of three innings, Texas Lunch rolled on to a 17-5 win over Youngsville in City Softball play during the past week.

Hal Brown, Lou Check, Don Murphy and Fran Masterson accounted for 14 of the victors' 23 hits. The latter and Bill Brown homered.

NICE CATCH

Chris Halle, 114 Crescent st., Warren, made a neat catch in the Allegheny River this week when he snagged a 27 inch, 6-1 2 pound Walleye Pike.

WARMING UP

A bunch of the boys were whooping it up at Faetz Niesson's bowling alleys in preparation of the TV series being filmed for next year. They decided to team up on the hot 5 and 6 alleys to see if they could knock off the old Hermann Undertakers record score of 3700, plus.

They were Johnny King, Carmen Salvino, Bill Welu, Foy Belcher, and Pat Paterson. They made it, with games of 1277, 1363, and 1268 for a 3908 total! Included was a 300 and a 290 by Salvino. They are known as the AMF Bowling Stars.

FOURTH GOLF

The mixed two-ball foursome golf tournament held at the Conewango Valley Country Club the Fourth was won by visitors from Long Island, Bill Edwards and Ann Hooper, who had even par 72, less a 9 handicap for a net 63. Tied for second were Mrs. E. W. Bell and Bill Rice with 86-17-69, and Mrs. Andy Paucek and Marian Pettigrew, 96-27-69.

JUNIOR GOLF

Junior golfers at the CVCC were led by Jerry Angove in the group 4 flight. Group 3 winners were Carol Cleveland and Fred Martin; group 2, Carol Martin and Jerry Lauffenberger; group 1, Kathy Jean Walker and Chuckie Schmidt.

LADIES GOLF

Joan Carter shot 87 for the best ladies score at the CVCC. She also had low net in the first flight. Helen Anderson and Polly Schmidt led flights two and three. The tee to green tournament winners were Helen Culbertson, Helen Anderson, and Polly Schmidt in the three flights. Next week they will have a poker tournament with 2's wild.

MALE PLAY

The men golfers may have Jamestown here for a match Saturday. Last Saturday Pete Juliano and Bud Kopf tied for the President's Cup with net 69's.

Qualifying rounds for the club championship start this Sunday, and on Monday some of the boys will be shooting in the Jamestown Open at Moon Brook.

A few Warren golfers also may shoot in the Erie open qualifier and in the Hubbard, Ohio, $1000 tournament.

MIDGET LEAGUE
Den Seymour's double in the bottom of the seventh drove in the run that gave Sunray a 4-3 extra inning victory over Western Auto Tuesday night.

The two teams were playing off an earlier extra inning contest that ended in a tie and was called on darkness.

Jim Senger tossed the win and teammate Chuck Johnson poked the best hit in a triple.

A four-run blast in the third frame provided Akeley with a 5-1 margin over WNAE Tuesday night. Lohnes and Johnson shared the mound work, with the former credited with the win.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

Carlson chalked up his third victory in three mound starts when Warren Kiwanis nudged the VFW nine 3 to 2 on Jackson field Tuesday night. The hurler allowed three hits over the route and was assisted by teammate Dave Grady's homer.

Sylvania Electric rallied for five tallies in the fourth frame to come up with an 8-4 triumph over Chemical Products, English relieved Armstrong of the pitching role to get the win.

Wick socked a triple for the losers.

In a postponed game last night, Sylvania clipped the VFW 19-6 with Chapel tossing six-hit ball. Kane paced the winners plate attack with three two-baggers.

CADET LEAGUE

The Lions Club roared on to a 19-1 victory against Interlectric last night on Barry Johnson's four-hitter. For the winners Pat Hartnett clubbed a homer and Tom Yerg poked a double and triple.

Ponsoll fanned 14 and gave up only four safeties as J & R Esso beat Printz Co. 15 to 5. The losing hurler, Don Wilson, had the game's only homer.

NEXT FALL'S PROGRAM

We condensed the game seasons into a late paragraph last week but the decision of the Game Commission came so late that we were unable to include it in this column. Inasmuch as many hunters like to plan their fall well in advance we will go into the subject a little more extensively.

We believe most hunters will be happy about the decision to allow some small game hunting in October again. October is a good month in which to be in the outdoors. Better than November which is much like March with its raw, cold, wet days.

Squirrels, grouse, and turkeys will become legal game on October 19. That is a Saturday and provides the gunmen two week end dates in the field during October. These seasons run until November 23.

The following Saturday, October 26, you can bang away at pheasants, rabbits, and quail. These will be legal for a week more in November, the 30th.

The limits for this October game allow you to shoot six squirrels a day and 24 a season, four rabbits a day and twenty a season, four quail a day and twelve a season, two pheasants and grouse a day and eight a season, and one turkey for the season.

Coons, woodchucks, and grackles may be shot in any quantity, and for a full year, from September 1 to August 31. Red squirrels may not be hunted any time. Shooting the red ones is not allowed from October 1 to 18.

Snowshoe rabbits, or hares, are fair game from December 28 to January 4, and you may kill two a day or six a season.

The bear season will start November 25 and will last until November 30, with the kill limited to one per hunting party of three or more.

There will be three deer seasons, but you may shoot only one deer. If you are an archer you may obtain a special license and may hunt from October 5 to 12. You can shoot either sex. You also must have a hunting license.

The regular buck season will be from December 2 to 14. The antlerless deer season will follow on December 16, 17, and 18.

You must buy a special doe license and you can use it only in the county where it is purchased from the county treasurer for $1.15. Farm occupants may hunt on their own property during any season without a license. They can do the same on adjacent land with the

* The archery license will cost $2.15 when bought from the county treasurer and $2 from the Department of Revenue in Harrisburg.

* Resident hunters probably will like the restriction which makes it impossible for a nonresident to receive a doe license if he applies prior to November 15 or after December 15.

* That pheasant season we mentioned is for ring-necks only. There will be no open season for Hungarian pheasants, hen pheasants, sharp-tailed grouse, cub bears under a year, elk, and otters.

* The trapper will find his season starting September 1, but the catch allowed won't interest him. Skunks and opossums will be legal game for a solid year. You can catch mink and muskrat from November 30 to January 18. There are no limits on these animals. The limit on beaver will be four, and the season will be from February 15 to March 15.

LIMIT ENFORCEMENT

Some hunters often wonder how many animals or birds they may possess at one time to conform with the law. Obviously on the opening day you can't have more than the daily limit. And on the second day you can't have more than two days of shooting allowance. Naturally, at no time can you have more than the season's limit, no matter where you have it stored.

CROSS-COUNTRY FLIGHT

You are asked to check for pigeons who may fail in an attempt to establish a record for homing flights. Three birds will be released in New York the morning of July 16, about 5:45. They will fly a reasonably straight line toward Chicago where their owner, James Ruzek, expects them to arrive either the day they are released or the following day.

They will be bucking headwinds and will do about fifty miles an hour at anywhere from 100 to 1,000 feet. Alerted to report their progress are the civil air patrol, ground observer corp members, and civilian pilots. The distance is about 700 miles which will exceed the record non-stop flight if they do it. The present record is 607 miles from Kearney, Neb., to Chicago.

You are asked to keep an eye out for these birds. They are red, blue, and silver, and will fly together. Anyone seeing them may contact this paper which will relay the news to the Chicago Daily News.

Eisenhower High School was well represented in the Mardi Gras parade when Nancy Swanson, Shirley Bailey, Janet Van Orman, Virginia Van Ord and Gloria Hanson rode by on this float. Standing on each side of the picture of the knight drawn by Emme Jean Harmon are Freda and Lawrence Wilcox, children of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilcox of R. 2, Akeley.

The Hilltop 4-H Club of Scandia as their entry for the parade this year displayed the various projects of the group which included animals, flowers and vegetables.
